

Statement by Hon. Wavel Woodcock to commemorate World Children's Day 2023

Our children represent our future; everything that is pure and beautiful in our society. Our collective responsibility is to ensure that our children are loved, nurtured, and educated to help bring out the best in them. We must ensure that our society provides the right environment for their growth and development.

We must continue to invest more of our time, and our energy in our children and ensure that we have the right legislation in place to guarantee their protection and enable them to be who they want to be.

On behalf of the Media, Youth & Culture Committee of the Seychelles National Assembly, I wish all the children of Seychelles a Happy Children's Day.
